

PROVIDING TERMINATION BENEFITS FOR EMPLOYEES

Abstract of the Disclosure

A computer-based method for pricing and managing an insurance product under which an insurer will provide termination benefits to employees who are non-voluntarily terminated from employment by an employer. The product reduces adverse selection risks and durational risks associated with periods of unemployment.

334152 B11

TELETYPE UNIT